MR. JOHNSON'S SPEECH.

Andrew Johnson's recent speech in the senate has attracted much attention throughout the country. The only thing we regret about it is, his failure to ally himself squarely with the Democratic party. Only two parties can exist in the United States, and the Democratic party proposes all that the ex-President advocates. The Radicals are ridiculing Mr. Johnson's continued reference to the constitution. We have no objection to him on this account. The Athenians grew weary of hearing Aristides called the Just, and banished him. The Radicals consider the constitution a rope of sand, and if they had the power they would banish Audrew Johnson for calling their attention to an instrument which they have so often violated. A telegram to the Chicago Times says: "Mr. Johnson's speech was a novelty in more ways than one. There have not been so many references to the constitution made in the senate for the last five-years as were given in Johnson's speech." It is a fortunate thing for the country that there is a champion of the constitution the United States senate. There is an inherent necessity in the organization of all civilized society, of a covenant or compact distinctly and definitely expressing a recognition of certain inalienable rights, constituting the substratum of the system of government, and affirming fixed facts not to be controverted without denying the truth of its primary principles. The constitution of the United States is a covenant of such a character. By the assent of the American people it was adopted as the basis of their national legislation. Expressing truisms in politics, and exunciating great governmental guides and guards in its patriotic principles of liberty, that sprung spontaneously from the honest hearts of its wise originators, it is a sacred charter of freedom, interposing between rational democracy and licentious republicanism, to protect the people from themselves, to save conservative selfgovernment from the riots and revolutions of Radicalism. No party is to be feared while in power if it clings to the constitution, and Audrew Johnson is faithfully and patriotically serving the the Farmer. Manufacturer, Mechanic American people when, like a faithful sentinel upon the watch-tower of liberty, he proposes to defend from further violation that sacred instrument which has so long and so often been desecrated. A BAPPY RIDDAN'E. The last Humboldt Herald says: "We understand that three or four car loads of negroes have left Humboldt in the last few days for Arkansas and more are going." These negroes were in this city a few days since, and we understand they were bitter in denouncing West Tennessee. They seemed to think that they were going to an Eldorado where labor was unknown, and big, fat porkers were running about with knives and forks sticking in their backs and squealing for somebody to come and eat them. These deluded and discontented creatures are to be pitied and forgiven, for they know not what they are doing. These colored emigrants flatter themselves into the belief that their removal has created an aching void in West Tennessee; that the sun will refuse to shine, and everything will wither and decay. But the birds still sing, the cocks crow with their accustomed fervor, the grass is sprouting and the trees are budding and blossoming as they did last spring, when all these things depended upon the bright smiles and fructifying warmth of these discontented negroes. The colored people will be the sufferers by this change. Whatever inconvenience such an exodus may cause to the white people of West Tennessee will soon be remedied. The place of the black man, whose presence is a bar to white immigration, will soon be filled, and there will be no cause to regret the are. But as the friend of the white man, we have no hesitancy in saying that they prevent the immigration of thrifty, hardy, enterprising, intelligent mechanics and laborers, who are indisposed to come in contact with the colored race. If the leaders of the blacks are wise, they will discourage all captious discontents. Those who are clamoring for emigration to some bright, beautiful and prosperous country as a cure for imaginary evils, are leading the blacks into the tribal condition, when the fate of the American Indian will sooner or later be the fate of the African on this continent. While we pity the restive, unsettled wandering negro, we have equal sympathy for the discontented whites of the south, who imagine that there is a country somewhere to which if they will migrate they will at once luxuriate in prosperity and happiness. This is a great mistake. As we have before said, and which has been repeated by the press, "contentment is the great secret of life." Old Horace struck the right key when he said: "Happiness depends not upon place nor climate, but upon the state of one's mind." "Rolling stones gather no moss," and the experiment of selling out and moving, in the hope of bettering the condition, often ends in bitter disappointment and irretrievable loss. Thousands in the south can testify, from experience, to the truth of this assertion. Better stay where you are. If you are in a good community, and your lands have bottom, drive down your pegs and locate. Remember that "there's more in the man than in the land," as old Jones said on returning from Texas, after terrible failures, to the old worn-out homestead he had sold, and found it blooming like a garden. Right-up the old dwelling, renew the outbuildings, pailings, fences, and barns; spend a few dollars in white paint, and give the premises an air of cheerfulness. Cultivate less ground, and make it richer every year. Make plenty to eat and some to sell, and let your cotton crop be clear profit. Plant fruit trees, have your

AN ACT to enable Allens to acquire, hold and dispose of property, real or personal, as native citizens. and d spose of property, real or personal, as native citizens.

WHEREAS, An enlightened public policy, looking to a speedy development of the resources of the State, especially its mineral resources, demands that our laws should be so shaped that every obstacle now obstructing the influx of capital and lator should be removed and the most liberal inducements con patible with the genius of our institutions, offered to allens as well as native citizens, to invest their money in our State, thus adding to our material wealth and resources. Section 1. Therefore be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, that it shall be lawful for an alien resident, or non resident, to take and hold property, real or personal, in this State, either by purchase, descent, or devise, and to dispose of and transmit the same by sale, descent, or devise, as a native citizen.

Section 2. Be it further enacted. That in all cases where allens resident, or non-resident, have heretofore acquired title to property, real or personal, in this tate, in a lawful manner, said allens, their assigns, heirs devises, or representatives, shall hold and dispose of the same, in the same manner as native citizens.

TO COUNTRY MERCHANTS,

WE are prepared to do our business this year on a closer basis than ever before. We never had so good a stock; our expenses are less by half than any house in the train; and we are determined to offer goods at such prices as must secure the business of closest buyers. We have just opened full lines of DBY GOODS, NOTIONS, ETC Bought largely for cash, selected specially for the "hard times," and we feel justified in saying we can duplicate your invoices bought from best Eastern houses. We will fill your orders carefully, and, upon application, send you price-list to order by. We keep all the leading brands of Staple Goods, and respectfully ask a trial from you in order to satisfy yourself.
